THREE YOUTHFUL HIGHWAY ROBBERS CAPTURED.

The President of the C., B. & Q. R. R. in the City—Ennis Excursion in—No New Cases of Smallpox, Etc.

Officer Fred Smith, by some of his characteristically clever work, has jugged the principals in a sensational crime. At about 10 o'clock Sunday night, T. W. Melty, a carpenter, who lives with his family at Boyle Heights, was going home afoot from the city. When he reached the Aliso-street bridge he was confronted by three footpads, one of whom shoved a revolver in his face and demanded his valuables. Not being much of a "weakener," Mr. Melty drew his pocket-knife and gave the fellow with the pistol a swipe, which laid his jaw open for several inches. The wounded robber screamed, and all three of the fellows fled, leaving Melty master of the situation. On Monday he swore out a warrant for three John Does, and the matter was put in Officer Fred Smith's hands. Fred camped on the trail, and by last night had the last of the three highwaymen locked up in the city jail. Ernest Montgomery, the one who was cut, works for Councilman S. M. Perry. Charles Brooks, another of the trio, is in the employ of Councilman Hines; and Willie Phalen, the last to be caught, is working for Mr. Fox, of Boyle Heights. The three young bandits were arraigned before Justice Austin, who set their cases for this afternoon, and fixed their bail at $250 each.

WON'T TALK BUSINESS.

The President of the C., B. & Q. Out Here for Pleasure Only.

C. E. Perkins, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, and party, consisting of F. W. Hunnewell, of Boston; William G. Saltonstall, of Boston; Miss Perkins, of Burlington; Miss Peasley, of Chicago; F. A. Delawa, of Aurora, Ill., and W. F. McFarland, of Burlington, arrived in this city yesterday by two special cars, "100" and "200." They spent yesterday at Pasadena, and will go to Santa Barbara today. Mr. Perkins has not yet made up his mind whether he will come back and spend a few days in Los Angeles, or go directly East. Mr. Perkins was called upon in his special car, at the depot, last evening by a TIMES reporter. He stated that the party left home for the purpose of viewing their roads; and, after their work was done, he made up his mind to bring the party on out to California. "We are on a pleasure trip, and I don't feel disposed to talk on business matters. I have refused to see reporters all along the line, and I do not propose to talk business now. No, there is no truth in the report that our people intend to purchase the South Pacific Coast Railroad. But don't ask me any more questions. This is a glorious country and you seem to be a prosperous people. No, we did not hear anything about the smallpox scare on our way out. I guess there is more talk about it in San Francisco than anywhere else. If we conclude to come back to Los Angeles and spend a few days here I shall probably feel like talking," and then the reporter bowed himself out.

THE "CO-OPERATIVE" TRACT.

The Judge Says They Were Not Members of the Firm.

The time of Judge Brunson was occupied yesterday by hearing the case of A. McFarland vs. J. M. Batchelor and Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Spencer. The two last-named defendants are owners of a tract of land known as the Coöperative Nursery tract, situated on Main street. About a year ago Batchelor and these defendants entered into a written agreement whereby Batchelor undertook to sell the property.

The plaintiff is the assignee, for collection only, of a number of claims incurred in trying to sell the land, and claimed that the articles of agreement between the Spencers, or Mrs. Spencer, and Batchelor, was a partnership contract. This the defendants, the Spencers, denied, and refused to pay the bills incurred in advertising the property for sale. Batchelor turned out to be irresponsible, and the contract business fell through. The parties having claims are the proprietors of the Herald, the Express, THE TIMES, Le Progress, the Rural Californian, the Los Angeles Printing Company and others.

The witnesses for the plaintiff examined during the forenoon were Edward Records, Albert McFarland and Col. Otis, of THE TIMES; H. Z. Osborne, of the Express; R. Farrel, of the Herald; L. Alles, of the Rural Californian; Mr. More (who is out some hundreds for conveying passengers to the tract); Mr. Walrath, of the Los Angeles Printing Company. In the afternoon Mrs. Spencer, Mr. Spencer and a former clerk of Batchelor were examined for the defense. After a short argument by the attorneys the case was submitted and decided in favor of the defendants, the judge holding that the articles of agreement did not constitute a partnership, from which decision the plaintiffs may appeal if they desire so to do within thirty days.

CAPTURED.

The Apache Murderer of Lieut. Mott Finally Cornered.

As will be remembered, THE TIMES gave exclusive news of the fatal stabbing of Lieut. Seward Mott by a renegade Apache at the San Carlos Agency, some weeks ago; the escape of the assassin and the subsequent death of Lieut. Mott. Ever since the tragedy an unremitting pursuit of the assassin and his companions has been kept up. The work has mostly been done by Lieut. Whipple and that big, quiet, unsurpassed chief of scouts, Al Seeber. They finally, after a long chase, drove the four renegades back to the reservation. Gen. Miles yesterday received a telegram from San Carlos stating that the murderer of Lieut. Mott had just been captured there. Seeber had captured all the weapons of the party except one rifle and one revolver, and it is believed that the three remaining renegades will be caught today. The murderer is confined in the guardhouse at the agency, and Gen. Miles thinks he will be turned over to the civil authorities for trial.

Wash-house Raid.

THAT MUSIC-BOX.

ANOTHER CHEAP SWINDLE EXTENSIVELY WORKED.

Not So Heavy Caliber as the Gold-brick Robbery, but Big Enough to Bring Down About Fifty Greenies.

Confidence men have been working this city for the past few months, so far as tender-hearted people and gulls are concerned. Gold-brick swindlers, panel-game thieves, thimble-trick gamblers and a whole host of male and female thieves have stepped within the city's defenses in some way, and they have worked their vocations with more or less success. The latest "racket," and one that has not been "worked" on the coast since the palmy stock days in San Francisco some ten years ago, bobbed up serenely night before last, and strange as it may seem the thief succeeded in getting away. As the story goes, a young man, who assumed a slight German accent, arrived from San Francisco about a week ago. He rode up from the depot on the Pico House 'bus, and with all the dignity of a stock-broker he registered as "George Y. Voelker, San Francisco." He made himself quite at home and seemed to make friends right and left. He was not at all backward about introducing himself to business men, from one end of Main street to the other. He also introduced himself to Spring street, and had a number of the most prominent business men on his visiting list. He was a good talker and until yesterday morning his newly-made friends thought he was just "too nice for anything." But alas for poor human nature—for the "nice" young man with the German accent has folded his tent and stolen silently away on the iron horse, and his friends have come to the conclusion that they are not good judges of human nature. The story fell out in this way. Early Monday evening the sharper started out to collect his taxes. The first man he came across had to listen to a long story about how the sharper happened in the Pico House bar and found that a fine music-box, worth over $100, was about to be raffled off. He took a chance and won the prize by one point, another man coming within one point of him. He laughed as though the whole thing was a huge joke, and wound up his story by saying in a laughing tone of voice that he had no use for the instrument, and if his friend cared for it he might have it for just what the fun had cost him. The friend was delighted, and patted himself for having such a kind-hearted chum.

"What did it cost you?" said the sucker, making for his cash drawer.

"Let me see," and the swindler entered into a deep study. "I paid $1 for the ticket, and—ha! ha!—after I turned out the lucky bones, they assessed me for about $3, I guess, but we will call the whole thing $3, and I'll make you out an order for the box. You had better not take the order up tonight, however, for the clerk of the hotel, with whom I left the box, has gone out and the night clerk is on duty. He does not know anything about the matter, so you had better not go up there until tomorrow morning. Here is the order," and he handed over a slip of paper which read as follows:

"Pico House: Please deliver to bearer the music-box, as the $3 are paid.
"GEORGE VOELKER."

The money was passed over and the adventurer left the store feeling perfectly happy. But his little joke did not end here. He told the same story and wrote out the same kind of an order for forty-nine gentlemen who wished to own a $100 music box. They all smiled, looked happy, and thanked the bilk after the most approved style. The fifty delighted ones went home and told their fifty confiding wives what a beautiful present they intended to make them on the following day. The fifty warm-hearted friends went to bed and dreamed that they were little angels, and each one of the fifty thought he was grinding out sweet music for the edification of the little angels who had never seen a real music-box. They arose early yesterday morning, and during the entire day the clerk of the Pico House spent his time reading $3 orders. He was puzzled at first, but he soon saw the point, and let the poor students of human nature down as easily as possible. They were made to understand that no raffle had taken place at the hotel for a music-box, and that the man who gave the orders had not been seen all day. Some of the dupes were mad, and swore in seven different languages, while others took the whole thing as a good joke, and laughed to think what fools they had been. The confidence man was seen by an employé of the Pico House to board the 1:30 train for the north. No complaints have been filed against the rascal as yet, but some of the losers are in favor of bringing him back

STREET PAVING.

CAPT. BARRETT LOOKS INTO THE SANTA CRUZ SYSTEM.

A Sort of Paving Material, a Thin Stratum of Which Has Stood for Years—A Company to be Organized Here.

The people of Los Angeles are becoming thoroughly aroused to the fact that this is becoming a large city. They have come to the conclusion that the old country-town streets that have held the fort in the principal city of the South, for lo these many years, must take a back seat, and give way to metropolitan streets and sidewalks. Even the men who hold to a four-bit piece until the eagle becomes seasick, are arousing themselves to the necessity of spending a few dollars on the improvement of streets and sidewalks. Almost every man in the city, who has the future of Los Angeles at heart, is looking around to see how he can best improve the street in front of his property.

Day before yesterday Capt. A. W. Barrett returned from Santa Cruz, where he has been in the interest of a new company which will be formed in a few days. The names of the members will be kept a profound secret until the company is thoroughly organized, although it is known that prominent men in this city and San Francisco will hold stock in the company. The Captain was seen by a TIMES reporter yesterday in his office on Court street. He was sitting at a table on which were displayed several large lumps of black rock that looked very much like coal.

"You seem to be in a deep study, Captain," said the scribe, taking a seat by his side.

"Yes, sir; you see before you the material with which the streets of every important city in the United States will be paved within a few years. As you know, I have just returned from Santa Cruz. That city was paved with this asphaltum about seven years ago, and it is as good or better today than it was the day it was put down. It was spread over a solid foundation of broken rock and cement. The asphaltum was put down at a thickness of only 1¼ inches, and you can't find a crack or break on any of the streets, and they cover many miles of ground. They tell me that the rock wears better when it is from 1¼ to 2 inches in thickness. The authorities of San Francisco are adopting it and propose to put it down from one end of Golden Gate avenue to the other. They have given it a fair test on Battery street, where heavy trucks are running over the street all the time. There has not been a break on Battery street, and the authorities are perfectly satisfied that the rock will stand the hardest kind of usage. Experts who have examined all kinds of paving material are unanimous in saying that the Santa Cruz rock is far superior to all others. When asphaltum was first used it was melted by fire, but the Santa Cruz company discovered a new process by which the rock is melted by steam, so that the rock can be put down in its natural state instead of burning out the natural substances which seem to make the rock so durable. By this process, a thin coating over a solid foundation will wear for years. The sun does not affect it and it never becomes slippery and dangerous, as do other kinds of paving material. I talked with a number of truckmen in San Francisco, and they were all unanimous in saying that it is the best pavement that was ever used. No, it never melts in hot weather, as does the regular asphaltum. The ledge is located about seven miles from Santa Cruz in a northerly direction, up the coast, and, as near as I could judge, there is a whole mountain of it. In fact, I believe there is enough to pave every street in the United States. Yes, sir, we intend to organize a company. It will have a capital of $100,000, and we will be in working order in a very short time. Our plant, or the machine used for preparing the material, will cost about $10,000. The Santa Cruz company has a patent on the machine, and that is what makes it cost so much. No, I cannot tell what we can put the pavement down for, but the rock will cost from $12 to $13 per ton put down in Los Angeles. I was told that the Chicago authorities are talking of paving their streets with the Santa Cruz rock. Perine & Co., of San Francisco, are branching out. They are taking contracts at Oakland, San José and Sacramento, and say that the new pavement gives entire satisfaction. Yes, we will organize in a few days."

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Considering Cases of Insubordinate Officers.

The Police Commissioners met in the office of the Chief of Police, at 10 a.m. yesterday, with the full board present.

Permit to issue license to G. G. Brown, corner New High and Marchessault streets, was granted.

Charges were preferred against Officer Grubbs for influencing Officer Harthorn to insubordination, in refusing to follow the instructions of the Health Officer ordering him to go to the smallpox hospital. Dr. Hagan testified, and Grubbs was then called in. Grubbs denied the charges in toto. Capt. Tyler testified. The evidence of Mrs. Freeman, Grubbs and Dr. Baker was taken. Isaac Harthorn testified that it was he who induced his brother to refuse to go to the smallpox hospital. On motion, Grubbs was suspended from the force, pending the investigation of Harthorn.

Burke, who was convicted a short time ago for burglary, and sentenced to the State's Prison for five years, and afterward examined by the Commissioners of Lunacy, pronounced insane, and sent to the Stockton Asylum, escaped from that institution last Saturday night, and, as yet, his whereabouts is unknown. It is now a question whether Burke was insane or not.

THE RAILROADS.

The Steady March of the Tracklayers—Notes.

The Covina Exponent says: "The surveyors of the Southern Pacific road are surveying a line parallel with the surveyed line of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé, and nearer the mountains. What the object of the company can be, we are unable to devise, as it has no tillable land about it. The freight traffic will not cross the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé road and haul their loads still higher up the mountain trail, and unless the road is simply for a trunk line, will be a complete failure. The graders of the San Gabriel Valley road are working east of the river in this valley, and work on the other road, which is to intersect the San Gabriel Valley at Duarte, is as far west as Alosta. The trains will probably be running through the valley in thirty days."

A GOOD TRACK.

Pomona Progress says: "The San Bernardino and Los Angeles Railroad is graded to the San Gabriel River. The track is laid to Cucamonga, and will be to Clarmont in about ten days. The rails weigh seventy-eight pounds to the yard, and are of heavy Joliet steel, thirty-two feet long. The ties are of hewn, second-growth Washington spruce, and weigh 400 pounds apiece. They are laid about a foot apart. When the rails are laid at Etiwanda the noise is plainly heard at Cucamonga, six miles away. When struck they give a musical sound."

NO FELLOW CAN TELL.

The Covina Exponent says: "The ways and objects of the railroad companies are mysterious and past finding out. What the two great companies, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé, and Southern Pacific, mean by running parallel with each other jam up against the mountains is more than the average American can tell. We doubt if a Philadelphia lawyer could solve the problem, and we do not believe the railroad officials themselves could tell why."

FAST WORK.

The San Bernardino Times of the 19th says: "Tracklaying upon the San Bernardino and Los Angeles road has commenced in earnest again. Yesterday 4900 feet of track on the main line were laid, and a side track 2000 feet long was put in at Cucamonga. A mile of track was laid today, which takes the road close to Ontario. It will make connection with the San Gabriel road in a few days, and it is then proposed to bring a big excursion from Los Angeles over this road to San Bernardino, and from here to Riverside."

A NEW TOWN.

The Covina Exponent says: "The name of the new town on the San Gabriel Valley railroad near the present site known as Alosta is to be called Glendora, in honor, we understand, of Mrs. George D. Whitcomb."

HAD TO ELEVATE.

The Pasadena Star states that the bridge at the Raymond was raised in order to admit the passage of the new Santa Fé engines. The gas company also were obliged to raise their pipes two feet or more.

SPIKES.

Tracklaying on the motor road from San Diego to National City, began yesterday.

The electric railroad from San Diego to National City will soon be under contract, and its completion only a matter of a few weeks.

RAILROAD MAGNATES.

Several of Them Arrive Within the Past Few Days.

Several prominent railway men have arrived in the city lately. Yesterday, C. E. Perkins, president of the great Burlington route, arrived from Boston, with a party of eight, including his daughter, in the two special cars, "100" and "200." L. W. Towne, general superintendent of the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Gulf Railway, also came in with Mr. St. Clair, a banker, of Kansas City, and his wife and Dr. Burroughs, of the same place, accompanying him. They occupied special car "13" of that road.

In special car "63" of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad arrived F. E. Hinckley, one of the directors of the road, and party. They proceeded at once to Pasadena.

The car "Garfield" of the Vermont Central Railroad, arrived day before yesterday with a party on pleasure bent.

Netz, disturbing the peace, was set for March 24th. The case of Horace Bell, for assaulting with deadly weapon, on defendant's motion was continued to March 26th. The cases of Charles Brooks, Ernest Montgomery and Willie Fallon, for assault to rob, were set for March 23d, at 2 p.m.; bail, $250 each.

They Will Come.

The new building near the junction of Main and Alameda streets is getting a roof on it. Alongside of it is to be erected at once a two-story brick block, 75x140 feet. Both these are to be occupied by San Francisco firms—one a furniture factory, the other a chair factory. So the business men of the N. C. B. continue to recognize the importance of this country, in spite of all attempts to belittle it.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

San Bernardino.

HOW THE YOUNG CITY GROWS AND THRIVES.

SAN BERNARDINO, March, 21.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] About six months ago your correspondent first saw San Bernardino. He came here to make it his home, not to escape the severity of some eastern winter, for he is a Californian, born in one of our more northern counties, but because in this sunny southland he expected to find a greater degree of prosperity than in some other portions of our State. He had heard that the South had awakened and he expected to find here the wheels of progress turning rapidly onward. He was not mistaken. We read much about the "New South," referring to the Southern States of our Union. California has a new South, and the world at large is beginning to have a knowledge of it, and one of the most valuable and at the same time, the most picturesque portions of that new land is our San Bernardino valley. It stretches about sixty miles in length and about fifteen in width, and contains some of the finest land ever given to man, and a climate so genial as to excite the admiration of all. Dotted all over it are prosperous settlements, all thriving and growing; orange trees, the branches bending with their golden burdens of fruit, cover many acres. The metropolis of this flourishing portion of our State is the city of San Bernardino, located in the midst of all this rich and progressive section. Its altitude is 1073 feet above sea leavel. The corporate limits of the city at the present time are one mile square. Its population, rapidly increasing, has been estimated from 7000 to 8000, and at no distant day will be far above that number. The inhabitants are alive to the interests of the city, and improvements are being made in every direction. Six months ago we had no street cars, no electric lights, and no motor road between here and Colton. The beautiful depot of the California Southern Railroad then was not completed. Today one can reach this city by railroad, take a street car at the California Southern depot and be conveyed the entire length of Third street or on D street as far as Tenth street. He can board the motor railroad at any hour of the day and in a few moments be at Colton.

Should any visitor wish to see the progress we are making, a dozen dealers in real estate are ever ready to drive him around the city, and during that drive he would see stir and activity everywhere; some new structure would meet his eye at nearly every turn; buildings varying in size and value from that of the Stewart Hotel, to cost $100,000, to the modest dwelling of the artisan.

This is just a glimpse of what San Bernardino has already accomplished, and it is not word-painting, and we are not having a "boom," as that word is generally used. This is a vigorous yet perfectly healthy growth, and every forward step is a permanent one. This city is surrounded with hundreds of acres of the choicest fruit-bearing land, which grows more valuable every year, and we can justly boast of our prospects as being promises certain of fulfillment.

Thus introducing myself, I promise from time to time to tell of one improvement after another indicative of our progress, and also to supply the news.

EL COYOTE.

Pasadena.

[Pasadena Star, March 21.]

Mrs. Beeson, assisted by the Heine quartette, will give an entertainment at Williams's Hall, on the 30th. It will be a musical feast.

The death of Victor Stewart, of the firm of Ridgway & Stewart, architects, occurred at his home here, yesterday. He had been an invalid for a long time, and his demise had been expected for a number of days. His loss will be keenly felt in the community, for, though he had been a resident among us but a short time, comparatively, his substantial qualities as a business man and gentleman were appreciated by many. He was a master of his profession. The funeral took place from his late residence, at 2 p.m. today.

Residents on Orange Grove avenue, near Colorado, were treated to a Sunday scene yesterday that must have made them wish family parties of a certain kind would select some other drive for holiday excursions than the quiet and respectable thoroughfare named above. A man named Edward Flood drove out yesterday with his wife and four children, and when on Orange Grove a terrific quarrel ensued among the occupants of the carriage. Bad whisky seemed to be the producing cause therefor. Obscenity, profanity and blows reigned supreme, and when a number of passers-by interfered on behalf of the woman and children, family vituperation was turned against the meddlers in a concentrated stream. Messengers were dispatched for Marshal Mundell, and that officer was transferred from the religious atmosphere of the Methodist Episcopal Church to the scene of the riot, only to become at once engaged in a desperate effort to arrest the vindictive Flood, which he at last effected, despite the united opposition of the Flood family and the interference of a pugnacious bulldog, who happened along in time to join the alluring fray. The call for the marshal at the church door was of such an alarming nature that a panic among the congregation was almost the result, but happily that catastrophe was averted. This morning Flood was brought into Justice Gardner's court and fined $25.

MINING NOTES.

News of Development in the Calico District.

[Calico Print, March 20.]

H. Argall and Marcus Pluth have made a very rich strike in the Juanita mine, adjoining the Oriental. They have sunk about fifteen feet on a well-defined vein that fairly bristles with horn silver. They are much elated over their rich discovery and the indications are that the ore will hold out to some depth in its present quality. The ore averages 150 ounces to the ton. The location of the mine is most favorable, it being in the neighborhood of the Occidental, Garfield, Little V, Pinto, Comet, and other mines that have been worked with profit some time in the past, and are now sources of considerable wealth to the owners and lessees.

A tunnel is being driven into the Waterloo mine in West Calico, starting on an adjoining claim owned by Dan Edwards. It is now in about 460 feet, and will intersect a shaft that is being sunk at a depth of about 230 feet. Charles McKennon, Jessie Riley and others have the contract for running the tunnel. Ore is found in the Waterloo in all the openings, and in immense quantities. Thirty men are at work sinking and drifting, and it is expected that about fifty more men will be employed in order to keep thirty or forty stamps of the new mill in constant operation.

The Harmonial mine, adjoining the Waterloo, owned by H. B. Stevens, is showing up some fine ore at a depth of 100 feet. It is being worked by Greer & Blair, who have sunk a shaft to a depth of 100 feet and have drifted forty feet towards the ledge, which is a continuation of the Waterloo ledge. The ore is found in porphyry contact. The property has every indication of developing into a valuable and permanent mine.

The Ironclad claim, a few rods west of Calico, has been sold to the Barber Mill and Mining Company by H. B. Stevens and Soule & Stacy. This claim will, no doubt, prove a valuable low-grade mine to the company, and is an addition to and in close proximity to their present promising group of seven or eight claims.

The Comet and Pinto mines, in East Calico, have been a source of profit to the chloriders working on the same, several having cleared a few thousand dollars apiece during the past six or eight months. The claims are still looking well.

The Barber Mining Company is running a tunnel in the Silver Reef mine, and uncovering considerable ore of a fair grade.

A BOOM.

The Innocent Way in Which It Was Started.

[Santa Ana Standard.]

The peculiar way that booms sometimes start in real estate in this country is laughable. We herewith give an instance. Some weeks ago a prominent railroad official of Los Angeles went up to Lugonia to look after the feasibility of building a road through there. His report was favorable. Shortly after, another went on the same mission and was favorably impressed with the scheme. Following close upon his heels, three or four Santa Anains went up there on a visit, all being strangers. They noticed that land and town lots were comparatively cheap, and all being pretty flush of funds, concluded to invest in everything that was cheap. They bought town lots right and left, and ranch property, without a murmur at the prices, and then pulled out for home, thinking that in a few years' time they would get a fair interest upon their investment. The Lugonians, however, began to reason among themselves, and putting facts together concluded that there was something immense on the tapis. These strangers were evidently in the confidence of the railroad company, and a new railroad was inevitable and a city would follow. Land and town lots began to boom at a frightful rate. Men got up in the night to buy each other out. Telegrams to the Santa Anains began to pour in demanding the lowest cash prices upon their purchases. The "strangers" were in the market, and only added 100 per cent. to the cost and threw everything on the market. It was snapped up as fast as papers could be signed and the money delivered. One man of our acquaintance sold out and cleaned up just $5000 ahead of the game, and the others did as well in proportion, and still the boom goes on and the railroad does not materialize, but the Lugonians are happy and are now getting rich speculating off of each other. Strange to say, our friends didn't even know that a railroad was talked of, and innocently created a boom without knowing it.

A BOOMING NEIGHBOR.

San Bernardino Artificial Stone and Improvement Company.

[San Bernardino Courier, March 20.]

The articles of incorporation of this company were recorded in the office of the County Clerk yesterday. It is formed to deal in, buy and sell artificial stone, brick, concrete, sewer and water-pipe, etc., and to manufacture concrete, asphaltum and similar substances. It also proposes to build all kinds of street work, water-works, etc.; also reserving to itself the right to build all kind of railroads, street railroads and steam-car, or electric roads. It is besides ambitious to build all kinds of private and public structures, whatsoever. It also wants to try its hand on real estate, and announces its intention to do business in that line. Place of business San Bernardino; duration of the corporation, fifty years. The Board of Directors are seven in number—G. W. Bryant, R. F. Cunningham, John C. King, M. McDonald, R. T. White, W. A. Harris and M. A. Murphy. Capital stock, $250,000, divided in 25,000 shares at $10 each. M. McDonald is a resident of San Francisco; the rest are registered as of San Bernardino. Mr. Bryant takes 300 shares of stock, the other gentlemen 200 each.

Really, San Bernardino is widening out. Her horizon of industrial enterprise is expanding daily. The above has a very metropolitan sound. Our resources are so prodigious that there is no fear of the field of enterprise being preëmpted in a hurrry, however. It is wide, and will afford full and free scope for enterprise for many years to come.

With the Little People.

Annie G. had been punished for crying over two broken dolls. "Oh, yes, mamma," she moaned; "you can punish me, if you like, but I've had a terrible affliction, losing both my children in one day, and I'm bound to cry. If I was to die (reproachfully) you could cry without being intersturbed!"—[Courier-Journal.

A mother had reproved her little girl for being so clumsy as to drop a dish, and the little girl, after a thoughtful silence, said: "Mamma, can you write with your left hand?" "I could if I were left-handed, but I'm not." "Well," said the little girl, "I guess little children are left-handed all over."—[New York Sun.

A 5-year-old boy returned from his first day at school not quite satisfied with his teacher. "Why," he said, "she kept asking questions all the time. She even asked how many two and two are."

A LAMITOS BEACH TOWNSITE.

This new seaside resort is located on the Pacific Ocean, 22 miles south of Los Angeles, and midway between the port of San Pedro and Anaheim landing. Alamitos joins Long Beach on the east, and has 10 miles of streets, which are to be neatly graded and lined with trees, and will be abundantly supplied with pure artesian water. An extra quality of pipe clay has been discovered on the townsite, which is now being moulded into pipe that is to conduct the water over the town. Three hundred thousand brick are burned and will soon be used to construct a vast reservoir.

The facilities for hunting, fishing and boating are abundantly supplied by the New River and its broad estuaries.

The elevation of Alamitos Beach, giving a commanding view of the ocean, islands, mountains, harbors and towns, together with its beach, which is unrivaled for its bathing and driving facilities, secures it forever a place in the forefront of seaside resorts. Write for agency and maps to MEDICAL INHALATION COMBINED WITH CONSTITUTIONAL REMEDIES.

Our treatment of the diseases of the respiratory passages consists in the employment of Medical Inhalation, for its direct effects on the diseased organs; and, at the same time, adopting such hygienic measures, and administering such medicines by the stomach as will most effectually purify the blood, give tone to the nervous system, and build up and strengthen the general constitution. In other words, we employ combined local and general treatment.

What is Medical Inhalation Before stating briefly what Medical Inhalation is, we propose, in as few words as possible, to state clearly what it is not.

Medical Inhalation is not a cure-all, a nostrum, or a panacea. It is not a Specific Remedy for any disease. It is not a quack medicine, advertised to cure any or all the ills that flesh is heir to, and intended to fill the pockets of its proprietors. It is not a talisman, whose possession insures health to its possessor without the intervention of either sense or judgment. Medical Inhalation is none of these things.

Medical Inhalation is simply and solely a method of taking medicines by inhaling or breathing them into the lungs, instead of swallowing them into the stomach. By Inhalation, the proper medicines are applied directly to the seat of the disease, in the nose, throat or lungs; and it is clear to every reasoning person how peculiarly applicable Inhalation is in the disorders of the organs named. If you have scalded or burned the surface of the body, or wounded any limb or member, you do not swallow the remedy intended to heal the disorganized tissue. On the contrary, you apply it directly to the seat of the wound or injury. Why, then, when suffering from catarrh of the nasal passages or throat, or afflicted with ulceration of the lungs, should you rely on medicines taken into the stomach?

Medical Inhalation not only applies the proper healing remedies to the seat of the disease, but it applies the remedy in the gaseous or vaporous form, in which form, as is well known, medicines act most powerfully. How much greater, for example, is the effect of a drachm of chloroform, when inhaled or breathed, than many times the quantity when swallowed into the stomach. The same is true of chlorine, of iodine, and of many other substances. By inhalation the medicine is not poured into the stomach, and thence sent wandering through the system in search of a malady, which may be mainly or entirely a local one; but by this method the proper remedy is applied directly to the diseased organ. Who, after studying the anatomy of the lungs, can doubt that in inflammation and ulceration of the air-tubes and air-cells, the direct application of the healing medicine by inhalation to the diseased parts, is the correct and rational method of treatment? Who, on the other hand, can be so irrational as to believe that the proper and direct way to reach the diseased surfaces of the air-passages, in this case, is by the way of the stomach? Physiology teaches us that the membrane, or skin, lining the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs, is only a slightly modified form of the same structure as that which covers the external surface of the body. Why, then, should local treatment be proper and necessary for inflammations, congestions and ulcerations of the one and not be equally so in the case of the other?

Our experience and success in treating diseases of the nose, throat and lungs, demonstrates, beyond all question, that the true scientific treatment of these diseases is that treatment which combines the local effects of medical inhalation with the constitutional effects of systemic remedies, given in the usual way by the stomach. One or both methods must be adopted as the circumstances demand, and such remedies must be employed as the experience and judgment of the physician have proved to be proper in each particular case.

MEDICAL ADVOCATES OF INHALATION.

Physicians who were educated twenty years ago or more, and who have not kept up with the times in the advance in medical science, have very little idea of the great importance all leading medical writers now give to Medical Inhalation in the treatment of pulmonary diseases. To such an extent is this true that no patient should intrust his case to any physician who is not well prepared and thoroughly equipped with everything necessary for the administering of the proper remedies by the method of Inhalation.

The numerous cures effected by Inhalation in cases seemingly past all help, and the uniform success attending its use in diseases of the respiratory organs, renders it obligatory on every honest physician to at once apply himself to gain a practical knowledge of the Inhalation, or, if that is not possible, he is at least bound to decline to treat such cases.

Among the most eminent physicians of the age who are fully awakened to the value of Medical Inhalation in these diseases are the following: The celebrated Dr. Burdon-Saunderson; Dr. La Roche, of the Paris Academy of Medicine; Dr. Frederick Langhaus, of Berlin; Drs. Klebs and Tommasi-Crudeli; Sir Archibald Dickson, of Edinburgh, Scotland; Dr. Eichler, Dr. Cameron, Dr. Gurdon Buck, Prof. Albert Lehert, the celebrated Dr. Hughlings Jackson, the venerable Dr. Robert Dickinson, Prof. Thierfelder, Spencer Wells, Dr. Hilton Fiagge, Dr. G. P. Wood, Drs. Fritsch and Hitzig, Dr. Pothergill, Dr. Richard Thompson, Dr. R. S. Carpenter, Drs. Anstie, Ball, Fuller, Lancereaux, Krauss, Huguenie, Heller, Orth, Corrigan, Fenwick and many others. With scarcely a single exception every medical authority of eminence recognizes the wonderful potency of this new method, and the coming generation of physicians are certain to be thoroughly educated therein. At present it is only a few physicians here and there who have made "Diseases of Respiration" a life study that are fitted in any way to employ the wonderful resources of Medical Inhalation in the cure of these diseases.

THE CURABILITY OF CONSUMPTION.

For five years the celebrated Dr. I. H. Bennet was pathologist to the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, and in his great work on "Consumption" he makes the following statement: "During this period I made upwards of 2000 post-mortem examinations of persons dying from various diseases, and I was constantly meeting with cases in which I found cavities in the lungs from consumption, which had evidently healed up or cicatrized years before the death of the subject. Nature did not seem to have been successful in restoring the wasted lung-substance, but the cavities were dried up, the progress of the disease arrested, and the subject lived for years, with diminished lung power it is true, but otherwise in good health."

Sarsfield's Remedy for the Blood and Constipation.

Sarsfield's Remedy for Diphtheria and Pneumonia.

Sarsfield's Chronic Ulcer Salve.

These remedies are well-known in Central and Northern California, and are now introduced in the southern counties. The MAKING OF CERTIFICATES has related so largely to fraud that the public has naturally grown suspicious of them. But those here referred to are by such prominenent citizens, of such irreproachable character, and the cures are so well-known, and the witnesses are so easy to reach, that we make the references without any hesitation:

MRS. H. C. GEODRIDGE, 23 Hawthorne street, San Francisco, 9 years a sufferer from chronic ulcers, and her case abandoned by physicians, permanently cured. Certified to by Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper, the well-known philanthropist and president of the Kindergarten Association, San Francisco.

MRS. M. R. ADAMS, formerly of Sacramento, completely cured at the residence of her brother, Benjamin Welch, master car-builder of the Southern Pacific Company, Sacramento, of running sore on the arm of 8 years' standing, and that had nearly sapped her life.

W. S. DOAN, noted inventor of the steam wagon, Sacramento, 33 years of fever sores, cured in 40 days. Certified to by William Guttenberger, ex-City Trustee, Sacramento; Alex. Neilson, John Driscoll and H. G. F. Root, proprietor of the Union Foundry, and others.

JAMES MCCORMICK, vice-president Bank of Redding Shasta county, 6 years' suffering from worst character of rectal ulcer, permanently cured in 3½ months.

W. A. DEAN, brother-in-law of M. H. de Young, of the San Francisco Chronicle, cured of aggravated piles and fistula in five weeks.

REV. J. T. HUFF, Turner Station, Or. (refers to Rev. Dr. Frost, Sacramento), cured of BLOOD POISONING of many years by use of the BLOOD REMEDY and SALVE. His letter is a remarkably warm indorsement.

We are also permitted to refer to Hon. Ira G. Holtt, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Sacramento; L. A. Upson, Sacramento; A. D. Carvill, of Carvill Manufacturing Company, San Francisco; Judge George E. Williams, Placerville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lux (Lux & Miller), San Francisco; C. B. Corwin, 925 Market street, San Francisco, and a host of others as well known.

These cures have been made by the use of the BLOOD REMEDY and ULCER SALVE, which are HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES, etc., effective in impurities of the BLOOD and diseases of the LIVER and KIDNEYS, CHRONIC CONSTIPATION, PILES, FISTULAS, etc.

TWO FRIENDS MEET.

"Hello! old fellow. What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"I have been taking mercury and potash mixtures until they have nearly ruined me," squeaked the old man on crutches.

"And I," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the first dose."

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great SENATOR STANFORD says the Southern Pacific Railroad has bought the South Pacific Coast Railroad. He has very good opportunities for knowing.

BY the way, while the San Francisco papers have been falsely alleging that the Los Angeles papers suppressed the facts about the few smallpox cases here, where have been their own "scare" heads about the diphtheria epidemic in their ill-sewered city?

"AN exceptionally good boy" was Willie Sells, of Erie, Kan., aged fifteen. He has just confessed that it was he who murdered his father, mother, sisters and brothers, a year ago. It is to be hoped that the truly-pious Willie wants to be an angel, and that his wish will soon be gratified.

SENATOR EDMUNDS hopes and thinks that the Republican party will show wisdom in the selection of its standard-bearer in '88. Sherman, ditto. Blaine, ditto.—[Washington Star.

Does the Star mean to intimate that each one of these able statesmen means to hint that the others should be nominated? And if so, which one?

IT is a curious result of a faulty drawing of State lines that a strip of territory between Kansas and Texas belongs to neither, and is known as Cimarron Territory or No-Man's Land. The people there have organized some kind of a territorial government, and are getting on very contentedly.

THE Albany Journal, commenting upon the stir among the labor leaders because the President failed to sign the most important labor measures, says that his action at Washington is in harmony with his action as Governor of the State of New York, and that it was his action as Governor which so strongly antagonized the labor interests throughout the country. All the same, these same "labor leaders" and their followers proceeded to fall down on themselves and make, or help make, Mr. Cleveland President. There is just as much humbug in the labor camp as there is among other breeds of politicians.

HERE are the last two of the New York Sun's rules of style. They are worth learning by heart: "Never discuss more than one proposition at a time, and never attempt to enforce more than one idea at a time. Intellectual confusion, helpless complication of thought, is the bane of good writing. Finally, be alive to the events of the day if you wish to possess a good style as a newspaper writer. Understand the value of news. What is news but the living record of Providence, the daily tablet which God indites for the instruction of man? Even the trivial incident of the hour has its place in the mighty chapter of human destiny. Treat it as you may, then, gravely, satirically, or jocosely, let there be ever in your heart a profound reverence for the momentous power from whose operation it proceeds." And we venture to add to the Sun's rules: Study accuracy, aim at the truth, even in the most minute particulars. The whole thing consists in being right.

The Oakland Tribune climbs up to the emergency of the news crisis that is "prevailing" in the vicinity of the Bay, and has made arrangements for "specials" which are designed to equal if not discount the enterprise of the San Francisco Examiner in its cable service. Underground Railroads.

The New York Journal of Commerce, in speaking of the proposed tunnel under the Common, says:

"It seems now as if Boston would steal a march on New York in this field of enterprise. Boston has no elevated roads to destroy her streets and test the patience and endurance of a long-suffering public. She has no facilities of locomotion but horse cars—her local government, with all its faults, having sternly refused to consent to the destruction of historic thoroughfares and enormous property values for the profit of selfish and heartless speculators. But Boston has plenty of money and knows how to spend it for the advantage of trade and the good of her people. Therefore she favors a project for tunneling the Common and Beacon Hill in order to add an inoffensive rapid-transit branch to her present extended horse-car lines. This tunnel would damage no property, is perfectly feasible of execution and would supply a link long needed to the chain of facilities for getting into, out of and about Boston. The motive power, it is claimed, would be electricity, the latest experiments having demonstrated the success of that agent for the purpose. But if it fails smoke-consuming steam engines are available. And so we may look upon a Boston underground line as something to be realized in the near future."

This is an exceedingly interesting question—the question of future means of locomotion in great cities. The horse car has its objections (especially to the horses); the elevated road is an unquestionable damage to property along its line, making it almost a nuisance; the cable road is not practicable everywhere; the electric road is still an experiment. We have the underground road to fall back upon, or fall down into, as the case may be. Let us watch the gophering process as it proceeds.

Silly as Usual.

It is a wonder that the providence which is said to watch over fools finds time to divert any attention from the office of the Daily Betsy. That doddering sheet signalized its boorishness and imbecility by a gutter-snipe attack upon the State Board of Health for daring to come to Los Angeles. The fact that it is the duty of a State Board to look after State matters has never been able to gimlet itself into the D. B.'s skull. Yesterday the sheet strutted over the fact that it "denounced them hotly and warned them away." It thought the way to make these official visitors do us justice was to do them an injustice that a stye-dweller would blush at. When it says that THE TIMES "indicated that the local authorities had not been equal to the situation," it falsifies as radically and as willfully as it did when it published and republished the statement that there had been no deaths here, when there had been three or four. Its whole course in the smallpox matter has been of the stupid and unprincipled character of most of its work. It has never in a single instance printed the exact truth about the situation. As to the Board of Trade resolutions to which the D. B. refers, no such meaning exists in them as is alleged by the alcoholic fume from Chicago.

Liquor Legislation.

The new liquor law which has just been passed by the Maine Legislature, and which goes into effect May 1st, makes the penalty, on first conviction, thirty days' imprisonment, as well as fine; prohibits the sale of cider for tippling purposes; allows druggists to keep all kinds of intoxicating liquors for the sole purpose of compounding medicines; makes the payment of a United States tax prima facie evidence of illegal sale of liquor, because a druggist is not required to pay that tax for using liquors in compounding bona fide medicines; imposes a penalty on railroad employés for unloading liquors outside of regular stations; and gives the State Liquor Commissioner a fixed salary instead of a percentage of sales.

Two Southern States, Tennessee and Texas, are to vote upon constitutional prohibition this year. The vote in Texas is to be taken upon the first Thursday in August. The Galveston News argues that the amendment is certain to be rejected, and thinks it a mistake that the State should be put to the expense of a special election to establish what is practically a foregone conclusion.

THE Southern people will show great respect to John Sherman if he tells them he is a brother of the gentleman who conducted an excursion through that section shortly before the close of the war.—[Philadelphia Inquirer.

Certainly they will. Gen. Sherman was a benefactor of the people of the South. He saved them to the Union and they are today richer by millions and every way happier and more prosperous. It takes time, however, for some people to fully appreciate the best things they have.—[Chicago Inter Ocean.

Gen. Sherman's march through the rebellious South must not, at this late day, be made a subject of apology. He made that grand march at the command of the Nation, for the preservation of the Nation, and, besides helping to save the South from the effects of its own madness, he and his gallant men won imperishable renown for the Union arms. They planted the Stars and Stripes again upon battlements and capitals and forts and places whence they had been torn by the desecrating hand of Treason, and for this they deserved, and have received, the plaudits of their patriotic countrymen. "Marching Through Georgia" is a song that will live, because the march itself lives in history.

THE female clerks of the Postoffice Department at Washington are all torn up over the question whether the Postmaster-General should remove his hat while in their presence indoors. Col. Vilas often goes over the building without removing his hat, both for purposes of inspection and to conduct personal friends through the various instructive and interesting branches of the postal service. His gentlemen friends on these tours of observation invariably remove their hats in the rooms where there are ladies, but the Postmaster-General does not. One faction contends that a Cabinet minister should not doff his hat in the presence of subordinates, while another maintains that the Postmaster-General is a man and should be a gentleman. The people of Los Angeles County don't care about these hair-splittings in the P. O. D., but they do want Mr. Vilas to take off his coat and tackle the mail problems that require his attention in this country, which he seems to consider as still the wild and untutored West.

THE report of an official that the Apaches confined in Florida are ill-treated is no news to those conversant with the facts. The most inexcusable brutality, however, on the part of an alleged Christian government is one which he does not mention—the separation of families. The men are confined in one place, their wives and children in another. The Apache, savage though he be, is as devotedly fond of his family as any white paterfamilias. It is all he has left. The strongest point in Mrs. Stowe's great book, and one of the most damning features of slavery, was the tearing asunder of families by brutal owners. The Apaches are merely prisoners of war at most, and it is hard to devise excuse for the brutality of this treatment.

MANKIND at large may not have noticed it, perhaps, but it is a fact, nevertheless, that the majority of newspaper men—the big majority we mean, the men who do the wood-sawing—the toilsome and conscientious work of detail—and the very men through whom others get their names into the papers and become known to the public, are never heard of. They rarely get their names into print, and labor on and die in hard-earned obscurity. We have been led to this reflection by reading of the recent presentation of a gold watch to William J. Kenna, of the New York Times. For many years he has worked like a Turk on that paper, and this is the first time he has got his name into print.

Trouble Between Rival Miners in Nevada—Fresno Farmers Duck an Alleged Riparian Spy—Tragic Affair at Lathrop—Lieut. Mott's Murderer Arrested.

By Telegraph to The Times.

REDWOOD CITY, March 22.—[By the Associated Press.] The Moore-Hopkins breach of promise case began this morning, with the plaintiff, Mrs. Harriet A. Moore, on the stand. Her examination occupied the entire morning. She testified that she met the defendant in San Francisco in 1877, and that he proposed to her in July, 1878. Whenever the defendant was in San Francisco he visited her regularly, twice a week. Just before he went East, to be gone for five weeks, he visited her, and told her not to worry; that, on his return, he would marry her. During their acquaintance, he made her presents at various times, amounting in all to $6000. The largest sum given at one time was $1000. Six weeks after his departure for the East he was married to his present wife.

During the afternoon the cross-examination of Mrs. Moore was concluded.

Mrs. M. A. Grier, a former nurse and companion, testified concerning the physical and mental prostration of Mrs. Moore. A deposition from Dr. Cora Ellison was read, in which the doctress testified she had treated Mrs. Moore unsuccessfully for mental prostration. Depositions from Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Moore, brother and sister-in-law of the plaintiff, were read, but those portions confirmatory of the alleged engagement were hearsay, and, for that reason, were stricken out.

A WARM WELCOME.

Assemblyman Knox's Popularity Among the Colusa People.

COLUSA, March 22.—[By the Associated Press.] Assemblyman George W. Knox, of Los Angeles, has been visiting Charles Porter since the adjournment of the Legislature. While paying a visit to W. S. Green many citizens called on him. At 8 o'clock he went to the theater, and as he entered it was announced that a staunch friend of Colusa county in the recent division contest was in the room. The audience rose and gave him three rousing cheers. After the theater several hundred people followed the Colusa band to Mr. Green's residence and gave Mr. Knox a serenade. In response he made a brief and eloquent speech, at the close of which good night was given with three cheers.

BATTLING FOR A BONANZA.

Rival Claimants Have a Row Over a Nevada County Mine.

NEVADA, March 22.—[By the Associated Press.] Last year, J. G. Hall, proprietor of a hotel at Cherokee, this county, and others, made a quartz-mining location on the Middle Yuba River, near that town. John Clark recently visited that section. Hall took him down to the river, and showed him his bonanza. Clark, later, went back, and, removing Hall's notice of location, which is said to have been improperly drawn, put up one of his own. A few days ago Hall, Frank Bell and six other parties went to the claim, and proceeded to do the annual work. Clark got word of this, and, armed with a Winchester rifle, went alone and drove off the Hall crowd. The dispossessed parties went to North San Juan, and swore out a warrant against Clark, and yesterday Constable Northup arrested him. In the meantime George Clark, a brother of John, is protecting the claim from invasion. The Clark brothers have a force of men at work. There is great excitement in that section over the matter.

DUCKING A SPY.

Fresno Farmers Fighting for the Water of King's River.

FRESNO, March 22.—[By the Associated Press.] Hopkins, the man who was acting as a spy for the riparian claimants who have an injunction against the Fowler Switch Canal Company, was caught by a number of farmers near the ditch's headgate on King's River, and ducked in the canal three times and nearly drowned. The canal was ordered closed by the Superior Court of Tulare County, but the farmers raised the head-gate, and are using the water. If the Government does not sign the Injunction Bond Bill, serious trouble is likely to ensue, as the farmers say they are bound to have water, as there is an abundance in the river for all, and a big stream is left flowing into Tulare Lake.

Killed for Joining in a Lynching.

BENSON (Ariz.), March 22.—Telegraphic advices just received announce that Tom and Bill Duncan have both been killed at their ranch, near Huachapi Mountains. A posse has been sent by Sheriff Slaughter to the scene of the killing. Information leads to the belief that the murder grew out of an old feud existing between the brothers and some of their Mexican neighbors, owing to their taking part in the lynching of some horse-thieves sometime ago.

Killed by His Brother-in-law.

LATHROP, March 22.—T. H. Odell, familiarly known as "Doc" Odell, was shot and instantly killed this evening by his brother-in-law, William Mass, during a dispute over a mortgage, at his ranch about two miles from here.

Celebrating the Kaiser's Birthday.

SAN FRANSISCO, March, 22.—The ninetieth anniversary of Emperor William's birthday was fittingly celebrated by the German residents of this city to-day. Gerwas flags were plentifully displayed. A torchlight procession of the Krieger Verein, composed of veterans of the Franco-German war, marched through the principal streets. Their line of march was additionally illuminated by pyrotechnic displays from the windows and doors of the houses of German residents. At Saratoga Hall the procession dispersed and attended literary exercises therein. The Deutsche Verein also celebrated the occasion by a ball, which was largely attended, at Pioneer Hall.

The Baltimore and Ohio Sale An Accomplished Fact—Gould Not in the Deal—Changes in Union Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—The Chronicle's Baltimore special says: "The American states from the best authority that the Baltimore and Ohio deal is an accomplished fact. The names of the participant roads to be consolidated and the various details are still kept secret, but the deal itself is a fact. The American states further and by the same authority that the Baltimore road will not pass out of the management of President Garrett, and that Jay Gould will have no hand nor voice in the new management."

CHANGES IN THE UNION PACIFIC.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—The Call's Omaha special says: "That there is to be a lively shaking up among Union Pacific officials at an early date, there is no longer any doubt. In fact it is already begun. General Manager Calloway has been superseded by G. W. Cummings. Mr. Calloway's functions are now limited to the office of second vice-president, and it is understood that his resignation from that position, thus severing his connection with the company entirely, is expected and will be accepted. It is said upon good authority that General Superintendent S. T. Smith will have to go, as the operation of the road under his direction has not proved satisfactory. There is a report that E. Deckinson, formerly of the Wyoming division, will supersede Superintendent Smith. O. D. Darrance, superintendent of the Nebraska division, has resigned, his reason being poor health. Mr. Cummings was land commissioner of the Southern Pacific for several years. It is said there is even a possibility of a new president being elected. There is a contest between New York and Boston parties on this very matter. If Boston wins Mr. Adams may be retained."

THE SOUTH PACIFIC COAST SALE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—Senator Leland Stanford returned from Washington yesterday. In an interview relative to the purchase of Senator Fair's South Pacific Coast Railroad by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, he said: "I know of nothing that has occurred to prevent the carrying out of the terms of the purchase. The purchase was concluded before I went to Washington and the details alone are being worked out. You cannot do things of this kind in a day."

HALL'S MINE.

A "Big Thing on Wheels" in the Desert.

[San Bernardino Times.]

Col. Hall, the man of vicissitude, adventure and heroic industrial enterprise, arrived from his gold mines in the Dry Lake district on Friday night. He came in to make purchases of tools, lumber and general supplies for the mine. Since our last article on the subject, work has been prosecuted vigorously. There are now three shafts being sunk. The ore in shafts Nos. 1 and 3 is much alike in quality and yields on an average about $122 per ton. In shaft No. 3 the ore is very rich, averaging so far about $500 per ton. Experts pronounce it a bonanza. A lot has just been shipped, and the Courier will be advised of the official returns. From shaft No. 3 to shaft No. 1, on a level of 115 feet in length, this extraordinary rich ore extends. The vein is not very wide, but it is immensely rich throughout. The Colonel will have a mill in operation by the 15th of next month, and will then have about 400 tons of rich ore ready for crushing. Experienced miners say that this ore, on an average, will go very close, if not quite up to $200 per ton. The Colonel will put two Kendall rocker mills on the ground. One will be kept busy on ore from his own mine, the other will find all it can do in custom work, as rich discoveries have been made in the district lately. During the last six weeks not less than sixty gold bearing veins have been discovered and located, most of them strongly defined and rich in their surface showing. Rogers & Co. have located twelve highly promising claims; Driscoll & Herold fifteen claims, some of them of great richness. Mr. Wilbur, of Riverside, has several rich mines, on one of which he has 300 tons of splendid ore on the dump. A Mexican company has ten or twelve claims of fine promise.

Carr & Co. have located five or six fine claims. Johnston & Co. have six of the richest claims in the camp. Harris & Co. have three or four, which make fine showings. Several other men whose names we could not learn have made rich locations. The district is swarming with prospectors and miners. A movement is on foot and will be carried out on the return of Col. Hall for the establishment of a stage line to Victor and also for a postoffice. On his return a new mining district will be organized and a recorder elected. In short, this district, which will, we suppose, be known as Dry Lake, bids fair to be as rich, as important and almost as extensive in gold as Calico is in silver. Of the great richness and extensive deposits of the Hall mine, there can now be no doubt. The Wilbur mine is also beyong the stage of experiment.

Thus, the enterprise of one man has added what promises to be a source of vast wealth to the county. Col. Hall, with that indomitable will, intelligent perserverance and sound judgment which enabled him to achieve large successes in other fields has alone and unaided brought this district to the front until today, it is one of the most promising in the county, and bids fair to become as large a source of wealth as Calico itself. No wonder that we long ago entitled the San Bernardino desert a vast storehouse of the precious metals. It is, and its mining industries are yet in their infancy. The old-time friends of Col. Hall will rejoice with us in the splendid prospects opening to him, in the triumphs achieved by his courage, skill, judgment and persistence. A faint-hearted man could never have achieved this success; a man of less resolution would have abandoned the enterprise. He deserves his striking success, and his friends will rejoice with him upon it.

NAMED AT LAST.

The Interstate Commissioners Announced.

No Pacific Coast Representative Appears on the Scene.

The East and Middle West Get Two Members Each and Dixie One.

Denial of a Washington Doctor's Sensational Story About the President's Health—Partisan Postmasters Dispossessed to Make Room for the Faithful.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—[By the Associated Press.] The President has appointed the following Interstate Commissioners: Thomas M. Cooley, of Michigan, for the term of six years; William R. Morrison, of Illinois, for the term of five years; Augustus Schoonmaker, of New York, for the term of four years; Aldace F. Walker, of Vermont, for the term of three years; Walter L. Bragg, of Alabama, for the term of two years.

The fact that Mr. Cooley's name heads the list does not necessarily indicate that he will be chairman of the commission, as it must elect its own chairman. Cooley was recently appointed by Judge Gresham receiver of the Wabash Railroad.

Aldace F. Walker is a Vermont lawyer, about 44 years of age, a Republican in politics, who studied law with Senator Edmunds. He served as colonel in the Union army, and has since then practiced law at Rutland. In the Vermont Senate he has taken a leading part in framing legislation to solve the railway problem and has given much study to the question.

Augustus Schoonmaker is a lawyer of Kingston, N. Y., and was always a close political and personal friend of Gov. Tilden. He succeeded Mr. Fairchild as Attorney-General of New York State.

Mr. Bragg has been a leading Democrat in Alabama for some years. In 1881 he was made president of the Alabama State Railroad Commission, and served in that position four years, during which time many important questions arising between railroads and their customers were satisfactorily adjusted.

Mr. Morrison's public services are well known.

THE PRESIDENT'S HEALTH.

Col. Lamont, in conversation today in regard to the President's health, showed that the fears recently expressed by Dr. Sowers are not shared by the President's family and his intimate friends. "The President," Col. Lamont said, "was, to all appearances, in perfect health." He did not think Dr. Sowers was in a position to judge of the matter, as he did not know the President, and what he said was, in the Colonel's opinion, based merely on the assertion that the President was gaining flesh and took no exercise. This was not the case. "As a matter of fact," he continued, "the President weighs less than when he first came to Washington, and really takes as much exercise as most other men. It is true he does not walk about the city, but he frequently walks in the country, and there are other ways in which he gets exercise." The Colonel added that altogether the President is in good condition, and there is no reason for apprehenson in regard to his health.

DISTRIBUTING THE SPOILS.

A new postoffice has been established at King City, Monterey county, Cal., with Edward V. Brown as postmaster. The postoffice at Nortonville, Contra Costa county, Cal., has been discontinued. The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed for California: Max Fisher at Cambria, San Luis Obispo county, vice Benjamin H. Franklyn; Emil Curtin at Cloudman, Tuolumne county, vice Daniel C. Cloudman; Henry Merrifield at Eagleville, Modoc county, vice S. J. Gee; Catharine J. Reynolds at Perries, San Diego county, vice J. S. Smith. All the outgoing officials named above were removed from office.

NOT MUCH OF AN EPIDEMIC.

A dispatch to the War Department announces the fact that a smallpox epidemic prevails at Los Angeles, the headquarters of the Department of Arizona.

A Monstrosity.

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.), March 23.—Mrs. Kretschner, a German lady of this city, gave birth to a male infant, recently, which has an elephant's head, and in place of a nose, a short trunk. The mouth and lips protrude like those of an elephant. The child weighs about nine pounds, and can be fed only with a spoon. The mother visited the circus quarters here during the past winter, and was terribly frightened by the elephants. The parents succeeded in keeping the matter to themselves until recently, and now very few have been permitted to see the child.

Editor Storey's Will Invalid.

OTTAWA (Ill.), March 22.—The Supreme Court has reversed the findings of the Circuit and Appellate courts in the matter of the will of the late Wilber F. Storey. The last will of Storey, which bequeathed his property, including the Chicago Times newspaper, is thus virtually declared invalid. Storey left two wills, very similar in their nature, and the last was offered for probate, but the point was raised that at the time of the making of the will the testator was not responsible. The first will, made some time prior to the one thrown out, it is supposed, will now be offered for probate.

Some New Notaries.

SACRAMENTO, March 22.—The Governor has appointed the following notaries: C. G. Warren, at Chico; John A. Frazier, at Carlsbad, San Diego county; T. A. Nerney, at San Diego; E. S. Barry, at San Luis Obispo; A. S. Deyoe, at San Luis Obispo.

Confessed Judgment.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The sheriff has attached the business of C. M. Rothschild & Co., on judgments confessed to the amount of $30,000. The failure is understood to be caused by the failure of the Rothschild firm in Cincinnati.

Deep Scheme of the Knights.

[Toledo Commercial.]

The Knights of Labor are talking of publishing a daily paper from their palatial new headquarters in Philadelphia, making it obligatory upon all members of the order to take the paper. Men that will strike when they are told to will probably subscribe for a paper when told to, but it will take more subscribers than there are Knights of Labor to keep a daily paper run on that basis from eating up the funds that built the gorgeous headquarters.

A Conundrum for the Democratic Party.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

The Washington correspondents and the New York press are wrestling with this profound conundrum: If, in the House of Representatives of the Fiftieth Congress, Mr. Carlisle is to be Speaker, and Mr. Randall is to be chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, how is any progress to be made toward the reduction of Federal taxation?

THE AGED EMPEROR.

All Europe Congratulating Kaiser William

On the Ninetieth Anniversary of His Birthday.

Berlin the Scene of Unparalleled Joy and Enthusiasm.

The Emperor Reviews the Processions and Receives Personal Congratulations — The German Capital a Blaze of Light—The Day Observed in Many Places.

By Telegraph to The Times.

BERLIN, March 23.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The ninetieth anniversary of Emperor William's birthday was ushered in by the pealing of bells in all the church towers of the town and by the sounding of chorals. The city appears as it never was before. Garlands, flags, laurels, festoons of evergreen, banners, bright drapery and brilliant carpets are hung on every conspicuous spot where ornaments can be made to add to the joyous appearance of the town. Conspicuous by the extreme elegance of their decorations are the royal Academy and University buildings and the city residence of the Crown Prince Frederick William. The monument of Frederick the Great is covered with wreaths and flowers. Wherever there is a bust or statue of the Emperor in a shop window, or other exposed place, it is buried in flowers. The people are all out in holiday attire and the streets are thronged.

Early in the day special memorial religious services were held in all the churches. Children from all the schools in the city went in procession from their halls, headed by bands of music, to the church services. The students' procession past the palace was a grand affair. They went in carriages, of which there were several hundred in line, and carried bright banners of the different schools, societies and associations, and were accompanied by many bands of music.

PASSING THE PALACE.

The long line of carriages was preceded and followed by students on horseback. Passing the palace the bands played the national anthem "Preussenlied" and "Wacht am Rhein," the students all singing to the music. The Emperor appeared at the window as the procession was moving past and bowed. He remained there a considerable time. The great crowd in the street gave him an ovation, the multitude cheering itself hoarse and tiring itself out waving hats and handkerchiefs. All the members of the imperial family and their princely guests drove in the procession to the palace and personally tendered their congratulations to the Emperor. The procession was cheered by the crowds in the streets.

The municipal procession was preceded by heralds and marshals bearing town banners, the whole body of the evangelical clergy, the chief military and civil authorities, representatives of German science, art and commerce, directors of the Gymnasium and burgesses and officers—in all over 20,000 persons. The procession was accompanied by several bands which played marches alternately with chorals by the trumpeters. The procession went in state from the hall to attend the commemoration religious service in the church St. Nicholas. The clergymen were all full-robed, and the officials were in uniform and regalia. When the procession entered the church, the organ played a prelude. This was followed by the singing of "Salvum fac Regem," and the chanting of the "Ambrosian Hymn." The festival sermon was preached by Provost Bruchnen.

ENTHUSIASM EVERYWHERE.

At noon, a royal salute of 101 guns was fired from Koenig's Platz. Prince Bismarck and Marshal Von Moltke went to pay their congratulations to the Emperor at 1 o'clock. They were enthusiastically cheered all along the route of their way to and from the palace. The day is being celebrated with similar and equal enthusiasm in all towns of the Empire. The rainstorm which set in at 3 o'clock and lasted until 6, had scarcely any effect upon the crowds of enthusiastic Germans who thronged the streets.

The illuminations tonight throughout the city are superb. An especially striking feature is a picture 100 yards long and 30 yards wide, in front of the Academy of Arts, depicting events in the Emperor's life. Prince Bismarck and Gen. Von Moltke say that they have received a wonderful reward for their services. The character of the reward is as yet unknown. All secretaries of the departments were decorated by the Emperor. In receiving the household deputation the Emperor said: "I have reached this age by the grace of God, and if the Lord helps me and wants me to, I may live to see another year."

A PLEASANT EPISODE.

At the afternoon reception the Emperor, after receiving the congratulations of the royal family and princely guests, with the Empress by his side, and surrounded by the full court, formally announced the betrothal of Prince Henry, second son of the Crown Prince Frederick William, to the Princess Irene Hesse. The young couple were afterwards heartly congratulated by all the illustrious company. The family dinner followed at the palace of the Crown Prince. The Emperor and Empress were driven from the Imperial Palace, to the Crown Prince's palace in a closed carriage as the rain was falling. They were greeted wth uninterrupted cheering along the way.

Emperor William conferred the decoration of the Grand Cross of the Red Eagle upon Ministers Von Putkamer, Lucius and Von Boetticher, the Grand Cross of the Hohenzollern family order upon Von Gossler, Von Schulz and Von Schellenderf and Gen. Albedyll; the first class of the Red Eagle upon Gen. Von Caprivi and Count Nesselrode and Stanred, the Eagle of the second class upon Count Herbert Bismarck. Gen. Katzer was appointed Grand Huntsman and Count Pueckler. Chief Cupbearer.

THE NIGHT CELEBRATION.

Berlin a Blaze of Light—Entertainment at the Palace.

BERLIN, March 23.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Tonight Berlin is like a city on fire. Steeples and domes shine with brilliancy. Electric light is the groundwork of the illumination. Three rose-colored lights radiate from the lofty avenues, in the center of where the palaces are situated, to the remote streets. From the roofs of houses Bengal fires are sending forth soft, glowing flames. In the Leipziger Platz, Unter den Linden, and all the large streets, every house contributes to the general effects. Crowns, stars and eagles are in rich profusion, and numerous colossal busts of the Emperor, surrounded with exotic plants, are displayed. The electric light on the square tower of the town hall emits a ruddy glare. On the Brantenburg gate are immense cauldrons, from which flames of fire are bursting forth every moment. The colossal arches at the Potsdam station are illuminated with eagles, stars and crowns, and the whole building is encircled with blazing pitch fires. Amid all this glow and light 500,000 persons moved in perfect order.

THE GRAND SOIREE.

After dinner the Emperor and Empress and Crown Prince Frederick William and his wife returned to the palace and attended a soiree in the white hall of the royal castle. The hall was divided into two sections, one for the stage and the other guests. The two front rows of seats were reserved for the princes of imperial and royal blood. In front of these were placed three arm-chairs for the Emperor and Queens of Saxony and Roumelia. The Emperor, however, refused to occupy the conspicuous position selected for him and seated himself in the row with the other members of royalty. At 9 o'clock the Empress entered the hall on the arm of her grandson, Prince William, walking with the aid of a cane. She looks much older and more feeble than the Emperor. She wore a pale green dress, trimmed with lace, and had diamonds in her hair. When all the guests had assembled the performance began with tableaux vivants representing Charles V in Augusburg. A duet from the opera of Tannhauser followed, which was sung by Herr Niemann and Frau Hofmeister. A quartette from Verdi's Don Carlos was rendered by Fraulein Renard and Pattini, Frau Artol and Herr Padilla, after which was presented a scene from Don Juan.

During the interval between the first and second parts of the entertainment the Emperor walked about and exchanged greetings with his guests, conversing with the Prince of Wales and Princesses Christiana and Irene. Passing between the rows of seats, he shook hands with the ambassadors and their wives, saying a few words to a number of diplomats.

The Grand Duchess Vladimir wore a costume of pink satin, with sable trimmings, and a tiara of diamonds and a stomacher of emeralds and diamonds. The Crown Princess was attired in a dress of silver-gray material, and wore a parure of diamonds and rubies.

After the performance the company adjourned to the supper-rooms, of which there were four, the members of royalty occupying one, the diplomats another, and the suites of foreign princes the two remaining. The Emperor retired to rest before midnight, but the guests remained at the festive board till night became morning.

SOME OF THE PRESENTS.

Among the presents received by the Emperor is a General's sash which the Empress had made for him. It is an exact pattern of the sash worn by Frederick the Great. The Empress insisted upon being the first to congratulate the Emperor. Punctually, as the clock struck 10, she entered the Emperor's study and presented the sash and other gifts. When the Emperor appeared at the windows he wore the sash. The floral presents were numerous. The Crown Princess painted for the occasion a life-size portrait of Prince William, around which were placed bouquets presented by members of the family.

Special pleasure semed to be afforded the Emperor by the children of Prince William, who carried their bouquets to their grandfather, followed by three children of Prince Albrecht and the children of the Crown Prince of Sweden. Many floral tributes came from distant parts of Germany and from England. The high officials of the court presented the Emperor a picture representing a military scene. A charming group in terra-cotta by Eugene Blot came from Paris, entitled, "Grandpapa's Birthday."

IN OTHER CAPITALS.

Emperor William's Birthday Celebrated Throughout Europe.

PARIS, March 22.—Count Von Munster, German embassador, held a reception last night in honor of the Emperor's birthday. The occasion proyed of exceptional interest and brilliancy. The whole diplomatic world, all the members of the French Cabinet, and other political celebrities of France, including Clemenceau and prominent foreign residents of Paris, were present. The Duc de Broglis was invited, but did not come. Gen. Boulanger, Minister of War, was the lion of the evening. He told Von Munster that he was happy to associate himself with those who wished to celebrate the birthday of the German Emperor.

VIENNA, March 22.—Numerous banquets and celebrations are being held in honor of Emperor William.

PESTH, March 22.—A banquet was given this evening. There were present the Emperor Francis Joseph, Prince Henry VIII of Reussa, the German Ambassador, Count de Montamarin, of the French Legation; Count Pueckler and Dr. Deponnanowski, of the German Legation; Count Kalnoky, the Austrian Prime Minister, and all the Hungarian Ministers. WATERY WASTES.

The Missouri River's Puzzling Freaks at Bismarck, Dak—It Alternately Rises and Falls—The Inundated Districts.

BISMARCK, March 22.—[By the Associated Press.] The Missouri River fell about twelve inches last night, and this morning stood at the high-water mark of 1881. Railroad managers and passengers were congratulating themselves on the prospect for relief, when the waters began to rise again, and have risen a foot since this morning. This is marvelous, when it is considered that all the gorges and the total flood were supposed to have passed. It is almost miraculous, and no one seems able to account for the action of the river, unless it is that the warm weather is able to produce the rise. The train from the east was delayed twenty minutes this afternoon by a rise in Apple Creek, three miles east of this point. If the water in the creek rises much more it will be impossible for trains to come to Bismarck, as the water at that point will put out the fires. There is no longer any doubt of the drowning of the Jackson family at Painted Woods. The family consisted of the father, mother and two children.

THE FLOOD AT MANDAN.

MANDAN (Dak.), March 22.—A good many streets are full of water, but there is no suffering. The water is slowly spreading over a vast extent of country. The gorge is expected to go soon.

LATEST REPORTS.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), March 22.—A Bismarck special to the Pioneer Press says: The water is now stationary. Northern Pacific passengers were transferred on yawls today and will be transferred by the steamer Helena tomorrow. All passengers delayed here are being fed at the company's expense.

Dynamite was unavailingly used on the gorge at Sibley Island today. Little Heart River is expected to break, and when it does the water will back into Mandan in a terrific flood.

His Story Borne Out by the Facts Elicted at the Trial.

An Illinois Legislator Made the Target of a Would-be Assassin and Has a Narrow Escape —Alleged Cruel Treatment of the Captive Apaches.

By Telegraph to The Times.

ST. LOUIS, March 22.—[By the Associated Press.] One year ago this month one of the bloodiest murders of human beings known was committed near Erie, Kan. J. W. Sells, a well-to-do farmer, and his whole family, except one son, Willie, a boy 16 years old, were found murdered, their heads being crushed and their throats cut. There has been great diversity of opinion as to whether Willie Sells committed the murder. On the trial there was no evidence and the State failed to find any motive for the crime. On the contrary, it was proven that Willie was an exceptionally good boy, and that he and his sister, Ina, were more than commonly fond of each other. The boy confessed last night that his father on the night of the murder had quarreled with his son, Watt, when the latter struck his father with a hatchet. Willie obtained the hatchet from Watt and knocked Watt down. His mother and sister came into the room screaming, and Willie knocked them down. In his frenzy he cut his brother Watt's throat. Then, he says, that if any of the others came to life he feared they would declare that he had killed Watt, and so he cut their throats. The recital corresponds to the facts ascertained at the trial.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

An Illinois Legislator the Intended Victim.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.), March 22.—[By the Associated Press.] An attempt was made tonight upon the life of Representative George P. Bailey, Labor member of East St. Louis, by some unknown person. Mr. Bailey was returning to his boarding-house, and was in the act of stepping upon the porch leading to the door, when he was fired upon by a person concealed behind a corner of the house. The revolver used was a thirty-two caliber, and the ball went through Mr. Bailey's overcoat, piercing a morocco-covered memorandum-book, in the pocket of his undercoat, and lodging in a book similar to the one pierced by the ball. Mr. Bailey says that he has no theory concerning the shooting. The fact of his having been of the parties to a resolution condemning two Labor members of the Legislature for acting as pall-bearers at Mrs. Neebe's funeral is attributed by many as the cause.

THE APACHE PRISONERS.

A Report that They Are Not Well Treated in Florida.

PHILADELPHIA, March, 22.—[By the Associated Press.] Herbert Welsh, secretary of the Indian Right Association, who went to Fort Marion, Fla., to investigate the condition of the Apaches there, has returned and made a report. Last October there were 500 Indians confined there. Now there are 447. Forty-four of the original number were taken to Carlisle, and twenty-three, principally women and children, have died in confinement. Welsh declares that of ninety male prisoners, only thirty have been guilty of recent misdoing. These were Geronimo's men. Many of the others had been long employed by the Government as scouts and some assisted in the capture of Geronimo, but they were confined on the same footing with Geronimo's hostiles. Welsh says that the clothing of the Indians during the winter has been totally insufficient and unsuitable. Most of them were only the rags which they brought with them from Arizona.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Several Anarchist Leaders on Trial at Vienna.

VIENNA, March 22.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The leaders of the Anarchists on trial here will be tried on the charge of having secretly prepared explosives with criminal intent. This charge has been substituted for the graver charge involving death, on which it was at first intended to prosecute the prisoners, because the latter would, it has been found, involve a shocking number of executions. The prisoners will be tried without jury.

A Burmese Fairy Story.

Fairy tales are popular among them, and there is one which comes from over the border in Siam, which was told us by a Siamese. The exaggerations all hang together artistically and are in the same key, as it were: "There was once a king who heard that there was an enormous giant in a far country, and he declared that he should never rest till he got a hair of the giant's head. So he sent his fleet, and they sailed and they sailed and they sailed for weeks and weeks and weeks, and at last one day in the afternoon it became suddenly dark, and they stuck fast, and could get neither forward nor backward. Now, the fact was that they had got inside a hole in a sort of carrot, the smallest vegetable in the giant's kingdom. And behold the next morning the giant's children went out to fish, and they picked up two or three elephants on their way for bait, but they were only able to catch a few of the very smallest fishes in the country—'something equivalent to your minnows,'" said the narrator. "And as they were going back they saw the carrot growing by the water's edge, and pulled it up to put it into the curry, and inside it was the whole fleet. After they got home the giant threw the fish and the carrot into the pot in order to boil them, when the fleet rose out of the root to the top of the water with all the men in it. 'What are those curious insects?' said the giant, peering down into the pot." Then came a good deal more, which the narrator had forgotten. "The men tried to shout to the giant and tell him what it was they wanted, but their voices were too weak, and he could not hear a word they said. At length he lifted them up to his ear in his hand, and a whole boat's crew marched in at the hole and went ever such a long way up inside, and then they all shouted together and told him they had come from their king to ask him for a hair of his head. So at last he was able to hear what even then seemed to him only a whisper. Unlike his kind, the giant was apparently as good-natured as he was big—he gave them the hair, lifted them back to sea, where the hair, when put on board the fleet, nearly sank it, after which he puffed out his cheeks and gave a tremendous blow which carried the fleet straight home, hundreds of miles, at one go!"—Good Words.

Pronunciation in School.

School children are causing revolutions in their homes of late, all because their teachers are getting up so many new-fangled ideas, and the parents not being "up to snuff" have quite exciting discussions with their children.

A little 7-year-old boy returned from school the other day and said to his father:

"Where's my dahg?"

"Your what?" asked the anxious parent. "Why, Sport, my dagh." "You must say dog," said the father. "No, I mustn't," answered the youngster, "my school-mawm says it's not dog; its dagh," and then he stretched his mouth wide open so you could see his bronchial tubes, and pronounced the word over and over a dozen times, insisting that the teacher says it's "dahg," at least that's the only way to spell the word as he said it was pronounced.

"Did your teacher say 'dahg,' Willie?"

"Yes, mawm," replied the boy.

"You must say mam, not mawm," replied the fond mother.

"Well, I don't care; my teacher said it was 'mawm,' and she gives me a mark if I say mam."

A number of the ladies in that neighborhood met by chance the next day and the subject came up. Each was surprised to find that the other had been through the same experience, and they wondered what would be the next new scheme. This will explain an "accident" that happened to one of the Nebraska hunting party the other day. While riding through the snow and mud two feet deep, and all hands nearly "frozen" one of the boys broke out with the exclamation that he'd be hanged if he wanted to hear any more talk about dog—"you must say dahgs," said he. And he was at once thrown out of the wagon, run over by one wheel and left to walk to town. But the only mystery is now explained—he had learned from his children to say "dahg" and only desired that his companions should be posted. So the dog must take a back seat to let the dude dahg have a chance. And "mam," that we were obliged to say to everybody under the penalty of a "strapping," is now "mawm." Surely this is another link in the evidence that the child is father to the man.—Council Bluff's Nonpariel.

Elephants at Play.

There would be the fine old patriarch with his harem, and the young ones performing the most fantastic acquatic gambols. The clumsy disportings of a baby elephant at a loss to know how to give full vent to the exuberance of his spirits is one of the most grotesque sights imaginable, and one only to be witnessed under such exceptional conditions as I have described. Looking through a peephole in the brushwood screen one could watch them at one's leisure. On one occasion on their return from the water in which they had been paddling and splashing themselves to the jungle, the whole herd would have walked straight into the hole in which I was squatting had I not shown myself. I had already marked the father of the flock as the one I intended to kill, and he was not ten paces from me when I fired. He stopped, while the herd scattered, and, fearing he would charge, I gave him the second barrel, and he sank ponderously to the earth. In my excitement I did not stop to reload, but making sure he was dead rushed out to secure my trophy. I had just got out my knife, and was stretching out my hand to lay hold of his tail to cut it off, when to my disgust he slowly rose and walked off after the ladies, leaving me amazed and confounded, and the subject of a good deal off chaff on the part of my companions. I was more lucky with a wild boar an hour or two afterward. He, too, was approaching me in a direct line, coming from the jungle, when I fired at him, upon which he made a rush straight at me. The impetus was so great that, though he received the second barrel full in the forehead, he actually rolled dead into the hole.—Blackwood's Magazine.

BUSINESS.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, LOS ANGELES, Tuesday, March 22.

There were no changes in quotations at the Produce Exchange today.

The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says:

"English Wheat is dull and irregular. Sales of English Wheat during the past week were 418,000 quarters at 32s. 11d., against 72,519 quarters at 30s. 1d. during the corresponding week last year. Anxiety is caused by the discovery of a large number of pupæ of the Hessian fly in screenings of Wheat from threshing machines throughout the provinces. Agriculturists urge the immediate destruction by fire of all screenings, claiming that if there is any delay it will be too late to cope with the pest. Flour is dull and weaker, owing to enormous supplies from America. Foreign Wheat does not improve. Indian and Russian are cheaper. The Liverpool quotation is 1d. lower. Corn is steady and against buyers. Linseed fell 1s., but regained 6d. toward the close of the week. There were three arrivals of Wheat cargoes; two were withdrawn, and one was sold. At today's market Wheat was dull. Some sales were 6d. under last Monday for both English and foreign. Flour was unchanged. Foreign Flour 6d. lower. Barleys were 3d. cheaper. Sound Oats were unchanged; inferior 6d. lower. Linseed recovered 3d."

Government bonds were dull and steady to firm.

Wall-street transactions at the Stock Exchange were, as far as the usually-active list is concerned, utterly devoid of feature. There was considerable activity in Lackawanna, Erie, Reading and St. Paul. Pullman Palace Car was remarkably strong, the advance being accompanied by rumors of an increase in dividend, and Fort Worth and Denver continued its advance, and became one of the most active. The close was dull, but firm; generally small fractions about the openi g.

PHEW!

A LONG-TIME NUISANCE AGAIN COMPLAINED OF.

The Ellis College and Its Promiscuous Drain-pipe—Why the West End People Hold Their Noses—A Dangerous Sewer.

It is very evident to the people who live in the neighborhood of the Ellis College, near the western terminus of the Second-street cable road, that Rev. J. W. Ellis does not take much stock in the saying that "cleanliness is next to godliness." The people who live within smelling distance of the sweet-girl-graduate shop are strong in denouncing his sewerage facilities. Mr. Ellis has been arrested several times for maintaining a nuisance. Yesterday another complaint was filed against him, and Officer M. M. Dalton was sent out by Justice Austin to serve a notice on Mr. Ellis, and also to investigate the premises and learn whether or not the complaint was sworn to on facts sufficient to convict. A TIMES reporter accompanied the officer, and on arriving at the college, they made a circle around the building. Before they left the street-car, and just as they were nearing the house, they noticed that a strong smell, which seemed to come from the college, came flagrantly cavorting over Second street. They walked around the house, but failed to discover the source of stench until they walked about fifty yards toward the north side of the house, when they had to cover their faces with their perfumed handkerchiefs. As the children used to say, while playing "hide-and-go-seek," the investigators were getting "warm." The land in front of the premises had recently been plowed, and it was noticed that the ground presented a very moist appearance. The two inspectors succeeded, after a good deal of trouble, in locating the source of the neighbors' troubles. It consists of a four-inch pipe that extends less than fifty yards from the building and throws all the waste water and filth from the building on the plowed ground, right in front of the college. The filth forms various little streams that wend their way down the hill to the Second-street sewer. During the investigation the front rooms of the college were full of young ladies, who anxiously watched the movements of the uniformed officer and reporter, and when the death-breeding hole was discovered, a girlish encore went up and the school-girls looked happy.

The officer found Mr. Ellis at the Belmont and served the notice on him.

"I don't know what to do about it," said Mr. Ellis. "I have done everything in my power. I dug a cesspool twenty-six feet deep, and it filled up in a few days. I am trying to plow it in every few days, but it does not seem to do any good." He has three days in which to remove the nuisance, and if he does not do so he will be arrested on the complaint that is now in the hands of the officer. There is a solid subsoil of clay a little below the surface, and the drainage filth does not and cannot sink more than a few inches. It is a threat to the health of the neighborhood.

PERPENDICULAR TALK.

The Board of Trade and Produce Exchange Speak.

The Los Angeles Board of Trade and the Produce Exchange have adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, the Los Angeles Board of Trade and Produce Exchange, in joint meeting assembled, have had under consideration the action of the Mayor and the Board of Health of San Francisco in issuing an edict whereby a quarantine has been established against all vessels heading from San Pedro, the port of entry and departure of the city of Los Angeles; therefore be it

Resolved, that we, the merchants of Los Angeles, speaking the sentiments of the mercantile community and our entire city, hereby denounce the action of the Mayor and Board of Health of San Francisco in establishing the quarantine as extreme and wholly unwarranted by the facts so far as it related to the smallpox in this city, and as an outrage that the people of this city cannot tolerate without entering their indignant protest.

Resolved, that we denounce the above action as unwarranted, and a slanderous and narrow-minded and selfish policy, and do not believe that the business men and community of San Francisco indorse any such action.

Hickcox-Cochnower.

The Hyde Park (Mass.) Times of the 12th says:

At the residence of the bride's uncle, Gen. H. B. Carrington, Fanny May, youngest daughter of Mrs. F. C. Cochnower, and Mr. S. H. Hickcox, of Los Angeles, Cal., were married March 5th, at 2 p.m., the Rev. P. B. Davis officiating. The bride was elegantly dressed in light blue satin, beautifully trimmed with point lace, the ornaments being pearls and natural flowers. In her young childish beauty she made a perfect bride. They left immediately for New York city, and will visit all the prominent cities of the Union, reaching home by the middle of May. Her many friends join in best wishes.

Y. M. I. Installation.

The installation of officers of the Young Men's Institute took place at their hall last night. There was a large meeting, and the following officers were installed: President, O. W. Childs, Jr.; first vice-president, J. W. Montgomery; second vice-president, P. de Urquiza; recording secretary, J. K. Chandler; financial secretary, J. B. de las Casas; corresponding secretary, H. B. Sullivan; surgeon, T. B. de Ybarondo; executive committee, L. D. Deane, M. Lacy, T. B. Timong, H. C. Valla and F. S. Graham. District Deputy W. D. S. Harrington acted as master of ceremonies.

A Horse.

Sunday morning J. L. Figerora, of La Ballona, told Officer Botello that he had had a horse stolen the night before. He described the animal, and Monday night the officer observed a boy riding the animal on Main street, and he promptly took possession of the horse and placed him in the pound for safe keeping. The boy said that he had gotten the horse from a man near reservoir number four, but up to this writing the man has not been found.

Too Much Benzine.

At 2 o'clock this morning Officers Methvin and Richards found a man lying on the ground at the corner of Short and Spring streets. At first he thought he had been laid there by a brickbat; but, on taking him in and making an examination of his generally battered-up person, concluded it was too much celebration and a fall that ailed him, and he was locked up as drunk and disorderly.

Let There Be Light.

The citizens who reside in the neighborhood of Diamond and Texas streets are circulating a petition to raise money for the purpose of erecting an electric mast at that corner. A petition has been placed at Bowers's store for signatures.

Began Work.

Yesterday morning S. Townsend, contractor, began grading on the line of the Pasadena Railway (the Pasadena and Altadena). The work will be pushed as fast as possible, as the material is on the way.

SPECIAL NOTICE

TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. M. HILTON WILLIAMS

Continues to treat all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart, by his new and complete system of Medicated Inhalations, combined with proper constitutional remedies for the Stomach, Liver and Blood, etc. Probably there has never been any system of practice so popular a one that has so completely revolutionized the system of medical practice as the Aerian or Inhalation System, for head, throat or lung affections. The cures effected are simply marvelous, and can be substantiated by the very best citizens of Los Angeles. During the past three years we have endeavored to be conscientious with our patients, and if, upon examination, we find, in our judgment, the case to be of an incurable nature, we unhesitatingly inform the patient or friends. We believe this system to be justifiable and are ready to condemn any physician who would do otherwise.

Below we give a sample of the cures effected by us.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Sept. 24, 1886.

Dr. M. Hilton Williams—DEAR SIR: I have been contemplating for some time past making a statement of my case and the benefit I have derived from your treatment, remembering how glad I would have been could I have seen something of the kind from a person in the city to whom I could have referred, when I first came to Los Angeles from my home in New York State.

I had been suffering for several years with what various physicians in the East pronounced "chronic ulcerated laryngitis." I spent considerable time at the Clifton Sanitarium, and employed the best medical skill I could find, all without any permanent benefit, and, a last resort, our family physician recommended Los Angeles. For a time I improved, and then I began to go backward and all my former symptoms returned.

Through a medical friend I was induced to try your treatment, which I did August 29, 1884. I become very much discouraged at times, but persevered, as I felt almost desperate and knew of nothing else to turn to. My throat trouble, being aggravated by a serious stomach difficulty, made it very obstinate to deal with, but at last, after persevering for a time with the use of your remedies, I consider I am permanently cured. If this will be of any value to you, you are at perfect liberty to use it; also to refer any one to my mother, my husband or myself. Very truly yours, MRS. J. D. WILEY, 821 Olive street, Los Angeles, Cal.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 17, 1886.

To the many testimonials won by Dr. Williams it gives me pleasure to add my own to the list so highly in his favor. For nearly two years I had been suffering from throat and lung trouble, brought on by catarrh. Had tried many remedies in the meantime, but found only temporary relief. After two months' treatment, prescribed by Dr. Williams, my cough left me altogether and I now have no pain in my throat or lungs as formerly. I cannot speak too highly of the benefits I have received and shall ever be grateful to one who is worthy of the highest recommendation.

Miss MINNIE H. HARRIS, Riverside, Cal.

NEWHALL (Cal.), Sept. 22, 1886.

Dr. Williams—DEAR SIR: I write to tell you how much I thank you for what you have done me. My catarrh and deafness, which have been a burden to me for so long a time, are entirely cured, and my general health so much improved that I feel like a different person. Thanking you again for your many deeds of kindness, I am respectfully yours,

Miss ANNIE RICHARDS.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Dec. 4, 1886.

Dr. M. Hilton Williams—DEAR SIR: I desire to let every man, woman and child know that you were instrumental in saving my life from that foul destroyer, consumption. I came to Los Angeles from Quincy, Ill., on the 10th of June, 1886. The very next day I began treatment. I was at that time afflicted with a large cavity in the upper lobe of the right lung, from which I had suffered over seven years, but, thank God, you cured me in 16 weeks' time, and now I am as well and strong as ever. Tell it to all. Yours truly, JAMES JESSOP, Quincy, Ill.

P. S.—I go home tomorrow.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business what ever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address

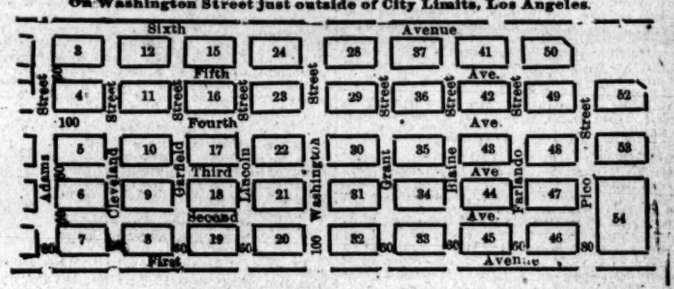
ARLINGTON HEIGHTS,

On Washington Street just outside of City Limits, Los Angeles.



We offer, as a free gift, 24 $300 lots to any one who will build a $20,000 hotel; also, one $300 lot to any purchaser of a lot who will build a $1250 house on ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

The elevated plateau of ARLINGTON HEIGHTS terminates in a ridge or descent of 60 feet just south of Adams street, and in a similar ridge north of Pico street. On these ridges are located the most magnificent building sites in Los Angeles. No houses can ever be built high enough in front of them to obstruct that glorious view of mountain, valley and ocean; from Catalina Island to San Jacinto Peak, and down again over the broad acres, orchards and vineyards, of fair Los Angeles Valley, to the blue waves of the Pacific Ocean beyond the coast of Santa Monica. Whosoever wishes for a beautiful home, sheltered from the noise and bustle of a busy city, but within a twenty minutes' drive of the Plaza, should select in ARLINGTON HEIGHTS a lot of 5½ acres whereon to build his house.

Our map shows a magnificent subdivision of it into 5½-acre blocks, 660x660 feet, including streets, each containing 24 lots 50x150 or 200 feet, and each surrounded on all sides by streets 60, 80 or 100 feet wide. Investors who are able to appreciate the importance of a well-planned subdivision will foretell a great future to this tract, with its miles of wide streets, intersecting each other at right angles. The elegant lawns and stately mansions of the rich will be found here within a short time, and purchasers who take advantage of our low prices and easy terms will reap a golden harvest of their investment in ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

Two hundred lots for sale; price $100 upward; size, 50x150. Also, 5-acre lots at $5000 per acre, upward. Free ride daily at 10 a.m and 2 p.m. from
